

As an Activities Director during these unusually times, you are certainly drawing upon your comprehensive experience coordinating special activities and events.

With social distancing, residents are more isolated than ever which makes your work more challenging.

Chaplain Services of Connecticut may be able to support your initiatives. We have years of experience in supporting nursing homes and assisted living. Here's where we can be of help in several ways:

- Visitation in person, by phone, texting, email, or with Zoom.
- Supporting any resident that are members of a local church.
- Provide fellowship to those who are not Christians.
- Empower persons to be positive and better cope with their situation.
- Provide a "listening presence" as persons relate their situations to enable us to better assist them.
- Help coordinate spiritual care (when appropriate), with their religious affiliation and assist families and friends to actively participate as we provide support.

Additional Services:

- DVD training Series
- A nursing home ministry book.
- Phone support for information and prayer.
- On-site workshops.

We realize there are individuals who do not have any visitors for any number of reasons and they should not be forgotten. We do not proselytize and function like a military chaplain supports troops, in accord with their beliefs.

There is no financial cost for our involvement, and it may well be that our service would significantly contribute to the success of your activities objectives. With our commitment to ensuring thoughtful and effective resident experiences, working with you, we are positioned to make a positive impact in your community. Our chaplains are trained, licensed and insured. We coordinate all our services with you.
